

Western Beaver County School District

9/9/2011

Dear Parent(s) or Guardian(s):

Western Beaver County School District will be providing an in-service training as part of the BVIU County Wide In-Service Day on Monday, October 10th, 2011. The District is extending the invitation to parents to the following training.

Jaime Grace, Director of Autism Services at Glade Run Lutheran Services will be presenting about the topic of "Including Students With Asperger's Syndrome in the Regular Education Classroom." The morning session will focus on the High School level and the afternoon session will focus on the Elementary level. The training will aim to provide attendees with a general understanding of Asperger's Syndrome - including the diagnosis, characteristics, symptoms, and behaviors and will provide attendees with strategies and interventions they can use in the classroom and in other educational settings. The emphasis will be on strategies to support students with Asperger's Syndrome in general education classrooms.

If you plan to attend, please complete and return the form below no later than Friday, September 30th, 2011. That way, materials can be prepared for you. Thank you.
